Commissioning Public Art

A one day seminar led by Wiard Sterk executive Director of SAFLE, an independent public art consultancy whose mission is to promote, advocate, develop and implement art in the urban and rural public realm, throughout Wales and internationally

Friday 28 November 2008
9.30am-4pm County Hall Room OBM1

The seminar will be of benefit to representatives from:

- Neyland's Rite of Passage Public Art Project
- Pembrokeshire County Council
- Pembrokeshire Coast National Park
- Milford Haven Port Authority
- PLANED
- Pembrokeshire Association of Voluntary Services

Using Neyland's rite of passage project as a case study, the session will explore aspects of commissioning new public artwork in Pembrokeshire

It will provide opportunities for participants to:

- find out more about the work of SAFLE the leading public art consultancy in Wales
- understand more about what is involved in commissioning permanent public artwork
- understand the principles of engagement with artists
- understand more about funding processes for public artworks
- discuss and exchange ideas and views
- identify the next steps for the Neyland rite of passage project
- explore the potential of developing a more strategic approach to public art in Pembrokeshire
